

WestBred, LLC

Improving Nature's Grains

Chico

Six Row Spring Feed Barley

Chico is a lodging resistant, six row feed barley, that has excellent yield potential, under intensive management conditions. Because of its short stature, Chico is best adapted to growing areas where lodging is a concern.

University of AZ Multi-year Summary

Variety	Yield (lbs)	Test Weight (lbs)	Plant Height (inches)	Lodging %	Heading Date
Chico	6300	52.7	28	0	3/17
Nebula	6266	53.4	33	13	3/17
Baretta	6568	52.6	32	15	3/18
Commander	6236	51.6	32	12	3/20
Cochise	6428	52.9	31	13	3/07

WestBred 8 year Yield Trials

Yield (lbs)	Lodging %	Plant Height (inches)
7397	5	29
6890	52	36
7012	65	34
-	-	-
7595	42	33

AGRONOMIC TRAITS OF CHICO

Yield Potential
 Test Weight
 Plant Height
 Lodging Resistance
 Uniformity
 Yield Stability
 Maturity
 Threshability

- Excellent
- Excellent (like Nebula)
- Short Semidwarf
- Excellent
- Excellent
- Fair
- Same as Nebula
- Very Good

Contact your WestBred Seed Associate for more information on this or other WestBred Varieties